

GIFT FOR COLUMBIA

Columbia University Gratefully Accepts Mrs. Ray Matshak's Gift.

NEW YORK, May 22.—As a memorial to her husband, Mrs. Ray Matshak has given the money to equip a department of mechanico-therapy at the Vanderbilt Clinic of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of this city. The trustees of the clinic have accepted the gift gratefully. So Columbia will be the first university in the United States to have such an equipment and to instruct her student in this new branch of therapeutics. The department will be in charge of Dr. Charles H. Jaeger, instructor of orthopaedic surgery at the College of Physicians and Surgeons. Mechanico is to hasten the recovery of persons whose disease have disabled them or have been injured. Thus it saves time and money; the sufferer, cured by it, can return to work sooner; his "sick benefit" ends sooner. If a patient is recovering from the after-effects of a broken arm, leg or shoulder that has knitted, or if one of his joints is growing stiff after a sprain or break, a mechanico-therapeutic machine is called into use and the treatment is applied. If a patient is too weak to work actively with one of the machines his limb is strapped to the apparatus and without the least assistance on his part the needed healing exercises is given by means of a motor.

ELKS CELEBRATE.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 22.—A special to the Express from Mexico City says: Two Pullman cars of Elks dressed in the typical Mexican peon uniforms will go from Mexico to the National Convention of Elks to be held at Dallas in June. The Elks will go wearing big Charro hats, white duck trousers, sandals and red sashes. They will pick up a Mexican band at Laredo. There are many Elks scattered throughout Mexico and it is expected there will be at least 60 from the Republic.

CONCLUDED WITH DEBATE.

On Power of Congress to Regulate Commerce.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—In an open session the Senate concluded today with an extended debate the power of Congress to regulate the interstate and foreign commerce and a negative poll of 23 to 32 was taken on the motion to adopt the Foraker substitute for an interstate commerce resolution under which the penalty provision of the commodity clause of the Hepburn bill is to take effect. The Foraker substitute provides that the prohibition against railroads and interstate coal and other articles produced by them shall apply only to property acquired since the passage of the Hepburn rate bill, May 29, 1906. The committee's resolution applied to all products without limitation concerning time of ownership. After the substitute was lost and before the vote on the committee resolution was called for, Aldrich moved that the Senate go into executive session.

The bill to place date on canned meat products upon packages was discussed briefly as was the omnibus claims bill, but both were displaced. The disagreement of the House to the conference report on post office appropriation bill on account of provision for the ship subsidies caused another conference to be ordered. The amendment will still be insisted upon.
